

...is produced by the Aviation Preservation Society of Scotland.

APSS organises the volunteer assistance of its members to the Museum of Flight, and conducts some restoration work of its own at the Museum. It has about 120 members, of whom 30 are active at the museum. The APSS is registered in Scotland as a Charity, No.51233

The APSS is independent of the Museum of Flight and this publication does not reflect the policies or opinion of the museum. Similarly, opinions expressed in Fortune Teller are not necessarily those of the Editor, or the Society.

Comments, ideas, draft articles for publication, etc., are welcome, and should be sent to the Editor at :

Aviation Preservation Society of Scotland,
c/o Museum of Flight,
East Fortune Airfield,
North Berwick,
East Lothian, EH39 5LF

APSS Membership enquiries should be made to the Membership Secretary at the same address.

This journal is for private circulation and is not for sale. While care is taken concerning copyright and no rights are claimed by the APSS, if you have a concern please contact the Editor.

Help and support from the Museum of Flight is gratefully acknowledged.

The Museum of Flight is part of the National Museums of Scotland. Its website can be found at :

www.nms.ac.uk/flight

Contents

Issue 10, Winter 2002/3

Chairman's Chat.....	2
APSS Activity.....	3
Oh Boy! We Had Fun!	4
The Sopwith 1 ½ Strutter, Progress!.....	7
The R34 and the North Atlantic, 1919.....	9
Spitfire on Floats.....	13
Pioneering Torpedo Training at East Fortune 1918.....	16
Shorts . . .
Napier Nomad.....	20
Anson Update.....	20
Can You Help ?.....	20

Front Cover Picture :

A Sopwith 1 ½ Strutter. See the progress report on our machine.

Rear Cover Picture :

Vampires at play, see "Oh Boy ! We Had Fun !".